

Environmental and environmental protection policy

The senior management have decided that the business must have an openness and commitment to environmental issues, building trust in our business with customers, owners, employees, the general public and authorities. Environmental issues must be incorporated into all parts of our business.

We apply a holistic and life cycle perspective regarding environmental issues and our operations. We prioritize managing travel, environmental and energy issues when purchasing and using goods and services in order to reduce their impact.

We divide our environmental work into four main areas:

- Emissions
- Resource use
- Renewable
- Biodiversity

Organization

The senior management have overall responsibility for environmental work. The Board establishes the environmental and environmental protection policy, and the support for and application of the guidelines for environmental work.

The Quality Manager ensures that the business complies with the environmental and environmental protection policy, action plans and current environmental legislation.

The Quality Manager has operational responsibility for the environmental work.

All employees at Persson Innovation AB are responsible for complying with the environmental regulations.
